

R. L. GARDNER IS FIRST ON TRIAL IN COURT TODAY

The first trial of the November term of Adams County Court, that of Robert Lewis Gardner, York Springs R. 2, charged with turning off car lights to avoid arrest, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and furnishing intoxicants to a minor, was being considered by a jury this afternoon.

The second case for trial, that of Edward Eugene, Frank Glenn and Haskell C. Wallen, charged with burglary and larceny, is scheduled to begin as soon as the Gardner case ends.

This morning Gardner told the jury that he had led police on a chase out in the Hanover area, that he had turned off the lights of his car in York County to avoid identification, that he had crashed through a barricade on Elm St. in York County, in Hanover, that he had struck and knocked down a stop sign while trying to escape police, but all of these events occurred in York County, he said, adding: "I done it and I paid for it."

Defers All Charges
While the chase by police continued on Adams County, Gardner said he did not turn off his lights while fleeing police on the part of Elm Ave., Hanover, which is in Adams County.

Charged with purchasing beer for a 16-year-old Hampton youth who was accompanying him on the night of the chase September 3-4, Gardner said he not only did not buy beer for the youth: "I didn't buy no beer at all. I don't drink beer."

Concerning contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Gardner said he had never talked to the youth before he met him about 8 o'clock on the evening of September 3. Another man invited the youth along to help fix Gardner's car, Gardner said, and later on the youth accompanied Gardner into Hanover, where the police chase began. Gardner said he had no idea how old the youth was.

Contradicted By Cop
Hanover Policeman Harold W. Shorb told the jury of the Gardner chase which started after Gardner had been stopped for failing to halt at a stop sign. When he spoke to Shorb after halting him for the stop sign violation, "he seemed cooperative," Shorb said. Shorb added that as he got back into the police car, Gardner started off at a "great rate of speed" and the chase through Hanover and into McSherrytown, ending with Gardner's car crashing into a junked truck at Crouse's service station, began.

Shorb said Gardner had his lights off for more than a quarter mile on Elm St. in Adams County. Hanover Policeman Vernon Busbey, driving the police car in which Shorb was a passenger, gave similar testimony. The juvenile, called to the stand, testified that Gardner bought him beer and added that Gardner turned off his lights on Elm St. in Adams County. The two policemen said the 16-year-old seemed "drunk" when they took him out of Gardner's smashed car in McSherrytown. (Continued On Page 2)

West Rejects Soviet Price

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western powers told Russia today that the Soviet price for entering into negotiations on German unification and Austrian independence is "totally unacceptable."

Notes were delivered by American, British and French envoys in Moscow to the Soviet Foreign office.

They replied to Russian demands put forward in a note of Nov. 3.

In their reply, the Western powers said the Russian demands in effect placed non-European problems ahead of even a study of urgent European issues and made "a defenseless Western Europe" part of the price for Soviet participation in a conference.

The Western powers said "the Soviet government must be well aware" that such demands are "totally unacceptable."

Gettysburg Gets AAUW Approval

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of Gettysburg College, announced today that, as a result of the recent inspection by Dr. Ruth E. Boynton, Gettysburg College has been placed on the approved list of the American Association of University Women.

Gettysburg's approval by the AAUW means that "the college now may take its place not merely as one of the good small colleges in the United States, but as one of the good small co-educational colleges in the United States, and is official confirmation of the fact that the position of the women on the Gettysburg campus is in every way equal to that of the men. As a result of the approval, all women who have been graduated from Gettysburg College and will be graduated in the future are eligible to join the College Women's Club in their community," a college official said.

NEW BOOKS AT ADAMS LIBRARY ARE ANNOUNCED

With the opening of National Book Week, Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, librarian at the Adams County Free Library, announced a list of more than 50 new books just placed on the bookshelves at the county library.

She emphasized, too, that many new books for juvenile readers have been added this fall.

"Now more than ever, there are scores of books within reach of our children. There are books to suit all ages and interests. Books on music, history, nature, astronomy—picture books for the young, biographies and adventure for the oldest. Filling a child's bookshelves and sharing stories with him is providing him with endless friends and adventures. It is teaching him to help himself discover the wonders of reading and how much fun reading can be. Let us try to make the spirit of book week last throughout the year instead of only for seven days," Mrs. Wilson urged.

The list of varied books she announced today follows:

General Books: Miller, Harper's Bible Dictionary; Lane, Bronte Story; Gassner, Best American Plays, 1945-51; Burns Mantle, Best Plays, 1953; Crosby, Call Me Lucky; Hamlin, Architecture Through the Ages; Swiggett, George Washington, Great Man; Baruch, How to Live with Your Teen-ager; Fell's United States Coin Book; Nevins, State-manship of the Civil War; Barker, The Oliviers; Taylor, Fragrance in the Garden; Taylor, Herbs in the Garden; Jordan, Hammond's Guide to Nature Hobbies; Moore, Man, Time and Possibilities; Callender, Before (Please Turn to Page 5)

Angry, Howling Koreans Turn Down Communist Pleas 221-6

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Angry, howling Koreans today turned down, 221 to 6, Communist pleas to come home in another stinging boomerang for the Reds who asked to interview them after 10 days of stalling.

The Communists dragged through the noisy interviews, meeting only 227 of the 471 Korean prisoners called to the explanation area.

One of the six POWs who chose communism sat through five hours of Red wheeling and talk. U.N. observers protested he was worn out and confused and unable to make a rational decision.

The Communist battering average was close to their over-all 3 percent for some 2,400 prisoners interviewed. The almost negligible figure has been a jolt to Red propaganda that all the 22,600 balking POWs wanted to come home. The Reds were scheduled to meet with 500 Chinese prisoners

YOUTH IS SHOT WHILE PLAYING "FAST DRAWS"

A game of "who can draw the faster," that started with unloaded pistols and continued after the guns had been loaded, put an Emmitsburg R. 2, youth in the Warner Hospital Sunday night with a gunshot wound in his lower chest.

George Junior Tyler, 18, Emmitsburg R. 2, is reported in a "serious condition" at the hospital this morning.

Maryland State Police, who are continuing their investigation, said Tyler was shot by a friend, Robert Baker, also of Emmitsburg R. 2, as the two young men planned to go skunk hunting with .22 caliber pistols.

Tyler and Baker, who are neighbors, had spent some time in the Tyler yard practicing "fast draws" with the two pistols, which at that time were unloaded, police said.

Pistol Is Fired
The two then loaded the pistols preparatory to hunting skunks, which they had done many times before. As they were leaving the Tyler home, they again attempted the "fast draws," and Baker's pistol fired. The bullet struck Tyler in the chest.

The youth was brought to the hospital here in the Emmitsburg ambulance. Local surgeons operated Sunday night to remove the bullet.

Baker remained at the hospital ready to give blood to his wounded friend in event of need.

Ten of the clubs in the county were represented. Mrs. Lawrence Bowman, Gardner R. 2, led the singing and the pianist was Mrs. Genn Hess, Fairfield R. 1. The Rev. Herbert N. Brownlee, Gettysburg R. 3, gave the invocation.

Each club participated in the program, using motion songs, illustrated story, quoting Bible verses, or visualizing choruses and songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shafer, Lancaster, were the guest speakers. Mrs. Shafer used eight children to illustrate her object lesson, "Letters from Heaven." Mr. Shafer presented a flannelgraph story on the Thanksgiving theme, using the story of Deborah and Barak. He also showed some slides of the summer missionary work, closing with scenes of clubs in Adams County.

A cake baked in the form of a cornucopia was the central decoration of the speakers' table. Two candles were lighted by the past director, Miss Thelma Coulson, Gettysburg, and the present director, Mrs. Orville Faust, Biglerville. From these candles, the teachers or representatives from the clubs lighted their candles.

Glenn Hess, chairman of the committee, presided over the program and pronounced the benediction.

NEWSHAM FILES REPLY IN PHONE COMPANY CASE

Dr. Richard C. Newsham today filed a reply to the new matter appearing in the answer of the United Telephone Company claiming that it is not liable for errors appearing in its directory.

Dr. Newsham, local veterinarian, recently filed a $5,000 action against the telephone company claiming damages because he was not listed in the veterinarians' column in the classified section of the phone book and the word veterinarian did not appear behind his name in the regular listing of Gettysburg numbers.

The telephone company previously had entered as new material the claim that since 1938 it had on file with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission—in its tariff provisions approved by the PUC—a statement that "The Telephone Company shall not be liable for damages claimed on account of errors in or omissions from its directories, nor for the result of the publication of such errors in the directories."

Asks Judgment
Dr. Newsham's reply denies that the provision set forth under the heading "Application for Service" is a tariff provision. It further avers that the provision recited in the telephone company's answer under the heading "Application for Service" was not made a part of his oral contract with the defendant as set forth in the plaintiff's amended complaint.

This amendment stated that Newsham was not told by the telephone company nor was he otherwise informed orally or in writing that the oral contract was subject to or conditioned upon the provision entitled "Application for Service," and that the plaintiff had no knowledge of the provision entitled "Application for Service" at the time the contract was entered into.

Dr. Newsham's reply demands that the new matter of the telephone company be stricken off and that judgment be entered for him.

The veterinarian claimed the failure to list the title caused people to think he had dropped his practice. The answer filed by the telephone company admits Newsham had asked for inclusion in the directory as a veterinarian, but claims the request was made after the directory had been printed.

"The Man Who Wouldn't Talk" Is Hoax; Buyers Get Refund

NEW YORK (AP)—Publishers of "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk" prepared today to continue selling the $2.75 book as a novel while offering refunds to the 10,000 persons who bought it as a true story.

Bennett Cerf, president of Random House, the publishers, acted yesterday after the weekend admission of the "hero" of the story that it was all a hoax.

Author Quentin Reynolds wrote the book as the story of George Dupre of Calgary, Alta., Canada. Dupre told a tale of torture at the hands of the Nazis during imaginary service in the French underground as a British spy.

Dupre broke down Friday under questioning of a reporter and said he had been carried away by a desire to prove to the young "that a man with faith can endure anything—even death."

Cerf said yesterday that a new printing of 2,500 copies now on the presses will be revised to include an explanation of the incident. Reynolds yesterday said another explanation would be carried in the January issue of the Reader's Digest, which published a condensed version in its November issue.

Fine urged that the Address be read in schools and at public assemblies throughout the commonwealth during Thursday's observance.

Aged New Oxford Woman Files Suit

Three Yorkers are being sued by an 88-year-old New Oxford woman who claims she gave them $5,000 upon their oral promise to give her room and board for the balance of her life, but that they reneged and kept her money after she had lived with them 18 months.

Mrs. Lydia N. Waltemyer, New Oxford R. D., has named Charles N. Freund, Charles E. Freund, and Dorothy Freund, York, defendants in a $4,100 assumpt suit. She credits them with $900 for providing for her from July 1, 1951, until Jan. 1, 1953.

According to Mrs. Waltemyer's complaint, she and the Friends entered into an oral agreement whereby she gave them $5,000 in return for their promise to provide her with "shelter, room and board in their home for the balance of her life." On Jan. 1, 1953, the Friends "compelled" her to leave their home and have not returned her money, her complaint avers.

COURT DECIDES THIS AFTERNOON ON CUMBERLAND SCHOOL CHOICE

The Adams County court this afternoon is to decide whether Emory A. Fox or Robert Weaner will be the new member of the Cumberland Twp. school board.

Following a hearing this morning, the court noted: "The decision is made doubly difficult because both men are good ones and would make good school board members."

Russell Durborow, vice president of the Cumberland Twp. board, spoke in favor of Emory Fox, one-time member of the board and now its non-member secretary. Weaner spoke in his own behalf in presenting himself as a candidate.

Board Couldn't Agree

The matter came before the court for a hearing when two petitions were presented from Cumberland Twp. residents, one urging the appointment of Mr. Fox to fill the term of Mrs. Letha Hartman, who resigned from the board. The other urged appointment of Mr. Weaner to the board.

The petitions were filed when the school board failed to appoint a successor to Mrs. Hartman within 30 days.

The school board minutes show that the night Mrs. Hartman's resignation was accepted Stanley Hull and Emory Fox were nominated for the vacancy. The Hull vote ended in a two to two tie. Fox was not voted on.

Says Fox Is Needed

Vice President Durborow told the court: "With Mr. Fox's past experience on the school board, and being our present secretary, I feel he is the best qualified person at this tremendous spending time. He has proved a good bargaining agent with our joint school system, he is conservative with the taxpayers' money, he knows the value of a dollar, he is deeply interested in the education and welfare of all children and not just a few individuals."

"Mr. Elker's term (Edward Elker, Gettysburg R. 4, president of the Cumberland Twp. board) expires January 1. He has been on the planning and financing committee of the Gettysburg Joint school system for the last several years, and Mr. Fox is completely familiar with the work of that committee and would be capable of stepping in and continuing Mr. Elker's work."

"The Gettysburg Joint system is now building about $1,500,000 worth of schools and if it was not for this big building program and the expiration of Mr. Elker's term at one time, I would not have been concerned with who would be coming on the board. I feel that it is my duty to help protect the education and welfare of our children as well as the taxpayers' money, as we must have new buildings and we don't know where the money is to come from. I know Mr. Fox will support this program in a conservative way."

62 Cents In Treasury

"Our present building program will cost Cumberland Twp. over $180,000 over a period of 30 years. It takes one mill to raise $700 so you can see how we stand financially. We have a 27-mill school tax this year. We owe one bus owner about $500 and we have 62 cents in our treasury. I realize as well as do our citizens that we need an experienced and conservative man like Fox."

"I realize that Mrs. Hartman was a Republican, as I am myself, and Mr. Fox is a Democrat. So I explained my position to all three Republican committeemen and all three signed the petition for Mr. Fox. I think that clears the political situation."

"A few weeks ago Mrs. Robert Weaner called me on the telephone and asked me if I would vote for the elementary school. I said 'no' because we would lose our three one-room schools with the present (Continued On Page 2)

14 ALLEGED KKK ARE NABBED ON KIDNAP COUNTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI agents today rounded up 14 alleged former members of the Ku Klux Klan in North and South Carolina on charges that they kidnaped and flogged a brother and sister exactly two years ago today.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who announced the arrests, said they were "a continuation of intensive FBI investigation of floggings in the two states which already has resulted in 29 convictions on similar charges in the past year and a half."

Face Several Charges

Those taken into custody at their homes early this morning were formally charged with kidnaping, interstate transportation of the two victims and their flogging "in a planned raid."

Hoover said the victims were Mrs. Christine Rogers and her brother, Ernest Barfield Rogers, who live about one mile apart on Route No. 1, Lake View, S. C.

The two told the FBI they were abducted on the night of Nov. 16, 1951, by armed Klansmen wearing white robes and hoods who broke open the doors of their homes.

They said they were blindfolded, driven across the state line into Robeson County, North Carolina, and beaten, both suffering serious bodily injuries.

INDICT FORMER ASST. ATTY. GEN.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert A. Bergson, 44, a former assistant attorney general in the Truman administration, was indicted today on charges of violating the "conflict of interest" law governing activities of attorneys who used to work for the government.

Bergson, accompanied by two attorneys, was in the courtroom of U.S. District Judge Edward A. Tamm when the grand jury returned the two-count indictment.

Bergson waived formal reading of the charge and entered an immediate plea of innocent.

The charge is a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $10,000 fine. The law Bergson is charged with violating forbids a government employee from representing private interests in any claim against the government with which he was employed, within two years after leaving federal employment.

Immediately after the return of the indictment, Bergson issued a statement saying the indictment could not have been obtained "had the attorney general of the United States not been willing to degrade the high office with which he is entrusted in reckless disregard of his sworn duty."

agreement with the state and the schools are worth about $8,000. Then she asked me if I would vote for it if we could get the $8,000. I said 'absolutely yes.' She then said we should throw the $8,000 up in the air and let the high winds blow it away.

Afraid Of "Wild Ideas" "I am afraid that if Mr. Fox is not appointed, we may get someone like this with wild ideas and recklessly spend our taxpayers' money which is badly needed for the education and welfare of our children."

"The people here are our employees, we are interested in education for them. Besides that we have the natural interest anyone has in his own community. I didn't seek this job. But I was asked to serve and I have a strong feeling that if asked to serve one should be willing to have his name considered."

"WIND WORDS"

Many were the men of letters . . . who wrote poems on the wind . . . telling of its running rampant . . . without being disciplined . . . showing how the winds whipped wildly . . . lashing out at land and sea . . . whistling with increased gusto . . . racing onward, ever free . . . others wrote of incensed breezes . . . summer winds that cast a spell . . . thrilling all who feel their presence . . . dancing like a gay gazelle . . . others told of walls and moaning . . . like an echo from the grave . . . these are things that bards recorded . . . wondrous words to us they gave . . . as for me I love a good wind . . . when it does just as it should . . . but I fear the mighty billows . . . for an ill wind blows no good.

REUTHER OPENS CIO CONVENTION ATTACKING IKE

By NORMAN WALKER

CLEVELAND (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther attacked what he called the Eisenhower administration's "service to big business" as the CIO opened its national convention today.

In his annual report, Reuther said: "It is an open secret in Washington that major drives will be under way to undermine much that remains of the New Deal and the Fair Deal."

He called on union members to rally behind the CIO in supporting candidates at all levels who can be depended upon to strive for CIO aims.

Although the report emphasized harmony within the CIO family, one important CIO leader was planning to snub the convention. David J. McDonald, head of the powerful United Steelworkers, reportedly intended to stay away from most of the important sessions.

McDonald, who succeeded the late Philip Murray as head of the steelworkers union, kept himself scarce in the CIO's pre-convention corridors. Both his union and Reuther's auto workers group, with more than a million members each, have constantly vied for the CIO leadership.

A year ago, at the CIO convention at Atlantic City, McDonald supported Allan Haywood, who since has died, in an unsuccessful effort to stop Reuther from becoming CIO president as Murray's successor.

See Complete Boycott
McDonald, named as a member of the Eisenhower committee to study tariff problems, was reportedly committed to attending meetings of that group in Washington Wednesday and Thursday. Tomorrow, he will absent himself from CIO convention sessions to launch a good will tour of steel plants in this area with Board Chairman Ben Fairless of U. S. Steel Corp.

Those saying McDonald will be away from the CIO convention sessions most of the week conceded, however, that he will be around Friday when Reuther is expected to be re-elected to a new term to the CIO presidency.

Others, however, said McDonald may decide on a complete boycott of the convention after its early sessions.

"TAX RATIO" IS PLANNED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Larger retailers in Pennsylvania will apply a "tax ratio" to total sales as a means of expediting payment of the state's one per cent sales tax to the state treasury.

Joseph C. Snyder, chief of the sales tax division, explained over the weekend that the ratio formula was set up to help large retailers make their sales tax reports.

The large retailers will figure out what per cent of total sales, department by department, is taxable and arrive at a "tax ratio." That will be applied to all sales over a given period in reporting tax collections.

The tax ratio "will be determined by carefully tallying sales and the tax money for six days in each quarter, two days a month covering every day of the week," Snyder said.

He added that while the larger retailers still will maintain detailed bookkeeping records for each sale but use of the tax ratio will make reporting the tax easier.

was charged with refusing to pay a local hotel bill of $5.10. Pittsburgh police asked Baltimore authorities to hold McKinnis for them.

McKinnis' Pittsburgh address was listed as 5925 Fifth Ave.

Here And There News Collected At Random

North and of the south fought for three long summer days, and settled the destiny of this nation. It was here, also, a few months later that Abraham Lincoln delivered his Gettysburg address—considered one of history's greatest pieces of oratorical literature.

Next Nov. 19 will mark the anniversary of his delivery of that address. Appropriate ceremonies will be held. Hundreds, if not thousands, will attend.

Many will be tourists on late vacations. There always are tourists here. After all, historic areas and places always have been tourist attractions. They blend well with travel. Gettysburg annually attracts 750,000 visitors, according to Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of Gettysburg National Military Park.

Walk around these broad and rolling grounds. The terrain is as it was in July, 1863. The Round Tops, Seminary ridge, Cemetery hill, Culp's hill, Cemetery ridge, and other embattled grounds are still here.

Yes, just walk around. It won't be long before you'll catch the emotional feel of the area. You'll soon realize that here, the ground on which you're walking, brave men 90 years ago fought and died, or were wounded or captured—51,000 of them.

Certainly it was a long time ago. Yet hundreds of men and women—a neighbor perhaps, or a grandparent—who were living then are still alive today. That then, makes Gettysburg seem not so long ago. Only one Union and two or three Confederate veterans survive today, but until the last one is gone, the Civil War is not completely history's possession.

Everywhere on these fields you'll see monuments, memorials, and markers, 2,390 of them. They designate certain battle positions and exploits, and memorialize military units and individuals. There is Gen. Meade's monument, here is Gen. Lee's—one of the few southern monuments at Gettysburg. Here is the "high water" mark of the Confederacy, the farthest penetration of Pickett's charge through Union ranks.

And in one plot of the cemetery are 143 small, plain markers each on the grave of an unknown soldier who gave his "last full measure of devotion." A few feet away stands a massive monument on the site where Lincoln delivered his address. A few steps farther is a memorial to that address, described as the only memorial to a speech. Pause, imagine hard, and maybe you can envision the tall, gaunt man; perhaps you can hear—

"Four score and seven years ago—"

Walk around Gettysburg town, old and rather quaint. Notice the old red brick houses on Baltimore av. and on other streets. Most of those houses saw and heard the fighting, saw soldiers race down those streets. In the country outside the town stand a dozen groups of farm buildings. They saw the fighting, too and some still bear the scars of shot and shell.

A popular and informative exhibit is a huge electric map showing the movement of battle, but more exciting and not to be missed is the historic Cyclorama. It was once shown in Chicago, about 1905, on a tour of the big cities.

This is a circular painting, 370 feet in circumference and 30 feet high. It depicts two seconds of the battle. It was painted in Paris in the early '80s by Paul Philippoteaux, a French artist, and five assistants. More graphic than words, this huge painting shows the fierceness of Gettysburg. It has been owned since 1942 by the National Park service. It is now wrinkled in many spots, and park officials hope some day to house it in a specially built, air conditioned building to preserve it for many future years.

Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Minnesota troops fought at Gettysburg. According to Dr. Coleman, the Minnesota 1st regiment suffered 82 per cent casualties, one of the highest casualty lists of any regiment on either side. The breakdown is 37 officers and 47 men killed, 14 officers and 159 men wounded, and one missing. The Minnesotans also captured about 500 men and one Confederate flag, according to Dr. Coleman.

Ample accommodations for visitors are available in town or nearby, but on certain days, such as Memorial day or Nov. 19, reservations should be made in advance. Principal hotels are the Gettysburg, the Gen. James Gettys—after whom the city was named—and the Eberhart. Motels are on all sides, and new one are being built. The city of Frederick is only a few miles away, and Washington is 72. Harrisburg is also near. Chicago is about 715 miles via the Pennsylvania turnpike.

You should visit Gettysburg some day. You'll be a better American if you do.

Kidnapping doesn't pay.

Since passage of the Federal kidnapping act of 1932 (after the Lindbergh baby had been kidnapped and murdered) 457 of the 459 kidnaps cases have been solved. Two are still open. There is no statute of limitations. The FBI has eliminated 26,000 suspects and still is working on those two cases.

In the event of a kidnapping J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, lists the following steps to be taken:

"1. Telephone the F.B.I. The number of the nearest FBI office is listed on the front of every telephone directory. The emergency telephone number at FBI headquarters in Washington is National 8-7117. The complainant should be prepared to provide all facts relating to the disappearance in an orderly fashion.

"2. Maintain absolute secrecy and do not permit any facts regarding the kidnapping or demand for ransom to be known to any one outside the immediate family except investigating officers.

"3. Do not handle letters or communications demanding the payment of ransoms; turn these over to trained investigators as soon as possible."

Quads Are Born In Georgia; Two Die

SYLVESTER, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Robert Dollson, 37-year-old wife of a negro farmer, gave birth to quadruplets here but two of the babies died about 18 hours later.

The two who died were boys. Worth County Hospital attendants said the surviving girls were in fair condition last night.

In 1950 the United States Census collected information as to the movement of population among the various states. It requested householders to report whether they had lived in the same house a year ago, and if not, whether they had come from another county in the state or from another state in the nation.

The replies to this question reveal a fact which has generally been suspected but never so clearly shown. Pennsylvania ranks extremely high in the stability of its population. In other words, in only one other state did so high a percentage of the people live in the same house in 1950 as they had done in 1949. The percentage of "non-movers," as the Census terms these people satisfied with their location and opportunities here or at any rate not moving to new ones, was 87.7 of the total population of Pennsylvania.

In one state, Florida, the percentage was only 71.3; in California it was 72.9; and for the entire United States, 81.1. Pennsylvania may justly claim, therefore, that it has one of the most stable and one of the least restless populations in the United States.

The largest movements into and out of Pennsylvania between 1949 and 1950 were naturally exchanges of population with our neighboring states—New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Maryland—but the highest total movement of population that occurred in Pennsylvania was within the state itself.

From 1949 to 1950, 160,665 persons changed their residence from one county of Pennsylvania to another while 798,930 moved from a different home in the same county out of a total of 1,076,470 movers. The evidence is strong that Pennsylvanians like to live in Pennsylvania.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS in 1863 President Abraham Lincoln and the brave men of Meade and Lee by their words and deeds brought undying fame to Gettysburg, and

WHEREAS the immortal words spoken here and the brave deeds performed should stand as an everlasting example to the free world, and

WHEREAS the only way in which the peoples of the world can gain full inspiration from Gettysburg is to pay this National Shrine an extended visit, and

WHEREAS in order to impress this fact on the public there has been formed here the GETTYSBURG TRAVEL COUNCIL, dedicated to the dissemination of information about Gettysburg, to a better understanding of Gettysburg by Gettysburgians and to a better relationship among the business people of our town who directly benefit from the tourist's visit,

Therefore, I, William G. Weaver, Burgess of the Borough of Gettysburg, do declare the week of November 16 as GETTYSBURG WEEK, and urge all Gettysburgians to pause in their daily routine to think of what our town really means and to give moral and financial assistance to the newly formed GETTYSBURG TRAVEL COUNCIL and the tremendous task to which they are dedicated.

Done this 16th day of November, 1953, in Gettysburg, Pa.

The Adams County Girl Scout Council, Gettysburg, invested the leaders and also was in charge of the Brownie fly-up ceremony. Members of Troop No. 16 sang the Brownie Smile Song for the last time, after which Mrs. Nichols pinned their wings on the sleeves of their uniforms. Mrs. John C. Porry, leader of the troop, invested the group into Intermediate Girl Scouts and gave them their pins. Mrs. Porry also presented each of the sixteen members of the troop with scrap books containing pictures and data on activities during the three-year period the girls were members of the troop.

Mrs. Porry will continue as their leader through intermediate work, with Mrs. Keith Hiltner as assistant. The troop members are Grizelda Hahn, Sandra Hawk, Linda Hiltner, Brenda Hollinger, Donna Koozt, Jacqueline Morelock, Wanda Morelock, Donna Rabenstein, Susan Reaver, Nancy Rugles, Barbara Sentz, Carolyn Schildt, Bonita Storm, Joyce Strevig, Linda Strevig and Jane Wanta.

The program began with a professional "Onward Christian Soldiers." Marilyn Spangler presided at the organ. The flag bearers were Sally Porry, carrying the American flag, Donna Morelock, the Girl Scout Intermediate flag, Melinda Karns, the Brownie flag, and Janet Ripka, the world flag. Following the investiture of the Scouts, a Girl Scout chorus including Patti Long, Suzi Long, Susan Strevig, Donna Reaver, Mary Ritter, Jean Sentz and Marietta Weikert sang "Girl Scouts Together."

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, spoke to the group on "Honor." He also offered prayer and pronounced the benediction. The recessional was "Faith of Our Fathers." The church altar was decorated with white fall flowers. Following the service, a reception was held in the social room with refreshments being served by the members of Troop 16 and their leaders.

It is believed that the natural body odors of many birds are sharply reduced during nesting.

FIND BODY IN TRUNK OF AUTO

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Police reported today they are without clues in the slaying of a 70-year old retired boat engineer whose burned body was found stuffed in the locked trunk of his auto.

Several hours after the discovery Saturday night the body was identified as that of George Harrington, 70, of nearby Lakeville, Ohio. He had last been seen Saturday morning as he left his home to distribute literature for the Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious group.

Police said residents of Greenfield Township summoned firemen after they heard an auto horn blowing and saw flames shooting from Harrington's parked car.

John Coates, chief Erie county detective, said it is possible Harrington was slain by a hitchhiker.

Chamber Suggests State Impose Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP)—State governments would have the exclusive right to impose gasoline, general sales and gross income taxes under a plan advanced by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber made its suggestions in a committee report covering fields for taxation by federal, state and local governments. The report would also give state governments exclusive rights to impose death and gift taxes, natural resources taxes, taxes on corporate capital and payroll taxes for unemployment insurance.

THE Camera COLUMN

By Dave Garfinkle

Basic or 45-degree lighting for portraiture, using one light near the camera lens and the other one-third nearer the subject, 45-degrees to the side and 45-degrees above the camera lens, will always give you a pleasant picture. It is used for 90% of all portraits, whether or not other lights are used.

But after mastering this kind of lighting, you'll want to go a step further to add those "professional" touches. This can be done with a background light and a highlight. The former is placed low and directly behind the subject. It must be concealed from the camera lens. Its beam is centered on the background behind the subject's head. This "fills" or fills any shadows cast by the main lights, and lightens the background in the finished picture, thus giving good separation between the subject and background. It also adds depth or a "3-D" effect.

A spotlight is used for highlighting, as its narrow beam can be focused on any small part of the subject you want to emphasize. A highlight is often used on the hair. For this, place the light to one side and slightly behind the subject, and focus the beam so it just touches the hair, but misses the rest of the face. This will give a professional "halo" effect. And whether you want a new camera, lighting equipment, or just advice, let us help you professionalize your pictures at DAVE'S PHOTO SUPPLY, 52 Chambersburg St., Gettysburg, Phone 83-W.

Improvements in Gettysburg: We are indebted to the Compiler for a report of improvements.

Starting in the southern part of the town we see a two-story brick dwelling going up by Mr. James Pierce. Nearly opposite a two-story frame by Mr. Emmanuel Bushman, on Baltimore Street, Mrs. Clippinger has had her residence raised another story. Coming down Baltimore Street, we notice a two-story brick under the roof, by Mr. John Chamberlain and turning down High Street, we see two two-story bricks ready for the roof by Mr. John Chritzman. At the corner of Washington and Chambersburg streets, Dr. Huber has erected a two-story brick residence, with an attic, which is, in effect, another story. Adjoining it, Mr. Samuel Little has put up a two-story brick with an attic, and adjoining Mr. Little, Mr. George Geyer has made his two stories with an attic, and a brick front. Next to Mr. Geyer's, Mr. John L. Tate has added an attic. At the western extremity of Chambersburg Street, Mr. C. W. Hoffman has put up several two-story dwellings. On Chambersburg street, near the Diamond, D. McCaughy Esq. has entirely remodeled his dwelling, and down Carlisle Street we observe A. B. Kurtz, Esq., erecting a cottage-fashioned residence, brick and two stories.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The First National Bank of Gettysburg has declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, and the Gettysburg National Bank, 4 per cent.

Torchlight Procession: The Republican "jollification" on Friday night over the recent victories was an imposing affair. About 7½ o'clock a special train arrived with the Hanover Hoyt club, reinforced by delegations from East Berlin, Abbotstown, New Oxford and other points, who brought with them the Hanover Drum Corps and four bands—East Berlin Cornet Band, Hanover Silver Cornet Band, Abbotstown Brass Band and Heidelberg Brass Band. The procession was formed on Carlisle street. The Gettysburg Drum Corps and Hoyt Colored Club were also in line. Over one hundred horsemen brought up the rear.

The procession made a fine display, the long line being lit up with hundreds of blazing torches. Chinese lanterns and illuminated banners. Colored fires were kept burning on a wagon in the line. A large "Jumping Jack," brought by the Hanover Hoyt Club, attracted a good deal of attention, as did also a party of masqueraders in grotesque costume, with a large boat giving out the idea of a salt-river journey. We understand that this part of the journey is to be credited to a number of college students of Republican proclivities. The procession was marshaled by Lieut. J. W. Cress, assisted by Col. J. H. McClellan, J. M. Swan, H. D. Scott, Wm. K. Schick, Charles Horner Jr., and John O. Baughman.

Along the route, the residences of Republicans were generally illuminated, some of them brilliantly. The procession drew up in center square, which for a time presented a lively scene, with hundreds of flashing lights, bands playing, drums beating, and general good humor. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the demonstration until after the procession was dismissed, when a couple of Democratic roughs indicated a desire to get up a muss

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WHAT WILL PEOPLE SAY?

There are those who seek to frighten us by saying: "What will people say?" What people? Who, when, where? As a matter of fact, "the people" are rarely ever concerned about us. What do we know about them? There is plenty of truth in that old saying: "What is everybody's business is nobody's business."

I came across an interesting statement in William Hazlitt's "Table Talk" essays. He said: "The idea of what the public will think prevents the public from ever thinking at all, and acts as a spell on the exercise of private judgment, so that in short, the public ear is at the mercy of the first impudent pretender who chooses to fill it with noisy assertions, or false surmises, or secret whispers."

During the life of the late Elbert Hubbard I used to go to his charming Roycroft Inn for a quiet spell. All the rooms were dedicated to some famous persons, like Emerson Room, or the Poe Room, and there were mottoes, neatly printed and hung from the ceiling of the dining room and other places. I recall one that gave me a smile. It was, "They Will Talk Anyway." That was Hubbard's tribute to the public. If we conduct ourselves decently and attend to our own business, does it matter if others may say ill of us? At least it can be ignored. It is not something to worry about. I miss the companionship of a well-known Washington newspaper man, George Stimpson, who recently died. I never met a man who had more nice things to say about everyone—and he seemed to know "most everybody." I noted that people everywhere always had something fine to say about this friend of mine, and the friend of thousands.

If we say nice things about other people, and mean them, other people will say kindly things about us, but it doesn't do any good to pay attention to untoward things said about us because of jealousy or fancied wrongs.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Afterglow." Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

FAILING MEMORY

I'd say that as a general rule I gained the average marks in school.

I learned enough in every class (Or so my teachers thought) to pass.

But now my children's children say That their "exams" I'd fail today.

I still remember how to spell And I can add, but not too well. The use correctly I could give Of adverb and the adjective, But now when questioned I regret I have to answer: "I forget."

In algebra my mark was good; Work out some problems then I could. But now when asked the way to show, I meekly answer: "I don't know." Time was I passed. But oh, dear me!

I've now a failing memory. Copyright, 1953, by Edgar A. Guest

Handsome Done: The Sunday School of Christ Church (Lutheran) of this place, has more than a local reputation for large hearted liberality. On Sunday afternoon it gave another signal illustration of this in presenting the Superintendent with an elegant gold lever watch of standard American make. It happens that the present Superintendent has occupied that position for twenty-five consecutive years, and the school concluded to signalize the event with one of its characteristic acts of generous good will.

The presentation was made through Dr. Hay, pastor, Sunday afternoon in the presence of the school. So quietly had the matter been managed that it proved a profound surprise to the Superintendent.

Enterprising: Mr. John M. Minigh has put up a steam boiler in connection with his Oyster Saloon, corner of Chambersburg street and diamond, for the special purpose of serving up steamed oysters to his customers. The boiler is in the cellar and the steam is conducted through coils of iron pipe to the saloon, serving the double purpose of heating the latter and steaming the oysters. It is an ingenious arrangement, and within five minutes after the order is given the oysters are served up "piping hot" with the delicious flavor peculiar to that mode of preparation.

IKE ADDRESSES JOINT SESSION OF PARLIAMENT

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

OTTAWA (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Saturday Canada and the United States "can and will" work out a defense against any surprise atomic attack while still maintaining their commitments in other parts of the world.

Addressing a joint session of the Canadian Parliament, Eisenhower said the Russians have adopted a truculent tone and United States-Canadian security plans "must now take into account Soviet ability to employ atomic attack on North America."

In his speech, prepared for delivery as the highlight of his good neighbor visit to Canada, the U.S. President declared:

Reds Arrogant

"We shall achieve the defense of our continent without whittling our pledges to Western Europe or forgetting our friends in the Pacific."

"The bankruptcy of armament races and the suicide of nuclear war," he continued soberly, are the only alternatives to "an international will to cast out the bomb and gun as arbiters."

Asserting "the threat of Communist purpose still exists," Eisenhower described Russia's recent rejection of the Western Powers' bid to a foreign ministers' conference on Germany and Austria as "truculent, not to say arrogant in tone."

On Canadian TV

"Our security plans must now take into account Soviet ability to employ atomic attack on North America, as well as on countries, friendly to us, lying nearer to the U. S. S. R."

"Their atomic stockpile will, of course, increase in size, and means of delivery will improve as time goes on."

Eisenhower's historic address was telecast by the Canadian Broadcasting Co.—the first "live" television broadcast from the House of Commons chamber.

It also was scheduled on nationwide radio networks in the United States and Canada:

Equal Partners

Eisenhower talked also of a need for expansion of international trade and for joint U.S.-Canadian action on construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

But his emphasis on the danger to the security of the two countries and on the need for enduring peace overshadowed other subjects.

"Canada and the United States," he said, "are equal partners and neither dares to waste time. There is a time to be alert and a time to rest."

"These days demand ceaseless vigilance. We must be ready and prepared. The threat is present."

PHILADELPHIA BANK GETS OK ON BRANCH PLAN

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Western Savings Fund Society today was the first state-chartered bank in Philadelphia to win commonwealth approval to open a branch in the city's neighboring counties.

The Mutual Savings Fund Institution won state banking board approval Friday to set up a branch bank in suburban Upper Darby, Delaware County.

At the same time the board turned down a similar proposal by the Philadelphia Savings Fund Society for a branch in Jenkintown, Montgomery County.

Doesn't See A Trend

L. Merle Campbell, state banking secretary said any explanation of the action "will have to come from the Department of State," which has been given the job of amending Western's charter to allow the expansion.

Campbell added, however, that he didn't feel the authorization of Western's expansion would result in any large-scale expansion of Philadelphia banks into suburban counties.

At an open hearing preceding the decision, Western and PSFS argued that facilities in the growing Upper Darby and Jenkintown areas were "inadequate."

Bankers from those towns countered that they could handle their own area banking business. They charged further that approval of the branch banks would throw open the gates to large scale expansion by Philadelphia banks into the surrounding territories, creating ruinous competition.

SEE IKE'S VISIT TO OTTAWA STEP IN CONTINENTAL DEFENSE PLANS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides to President Eisenhower today sized up his Ottawa visit as a step toward alerting both the United States and Canada to a need for bolstering continental defenses against possible Soviet attack.

These aides, who asked not to be named, were quick to note that actual strengthening of the defenses remains to be achieved. But they voiced optimism it will be done.

The President returned to the White House late yesterday after an overnight train trip from Ottawa, where he and Mrs. Eisenhower were guests of the Canadian government for two days.

In Complete Accord

A few hours before he left the Canadian capital Saturday, he and Louis St. Laurent, the dominion's Prime Minister, announced in a communique they were in complete agreement on:

Bullets Stage Second Half Comeback To Down Bucknell 26-13 For Seventh Straight

Roaring back for three touchdowns in the third period after being outplayed and trailing 13-7 at halftime, Gettysburg College Bullets captured their seventh successive victory by downing a big Bucknell team 26-13 here Saturday afternoon before approximately 3,500 fans.

It was Joe Ujohal, the Bullet ace back and state's top scorer, who ignited the local outfit with a 32-yard run to the Bucknell 1-yard line on the first play following the second half kickoff. On the next play Ujohal cracked through the line to deadlock the score. His kick for the point was wide.

From that point on it was all Gettysburg as the Bullets took command. Less than two minutes later the fired-up Bullets scored again.

Bob Sierer returned Ronnie Miller's kickoff to the Bison 30. Rod Hendricks fumbled and lost six yards which soon forced Bucknell to punt. Jim Rooney broke through the line to block Hendricks' kick and Walt Hemberger, end, grabbed the ball and raced into the end zone for the score which put the Bullets out on top for keeps. Ujohal added the point on a placement.

The Bisons, who outweighed the Bullets about 15 pounds per man, served notice in the first half they were primed to snap their losing streak which now extends to seven.

Midway in the opening quarter Ron Jacobi punted to Bob Dee who returned to the Gettysburg 38 from where the Bisons moved to their initial score. Bob Ford, Bucknell's best back of the day, shot through the right side of the line for a first down on the 28. Ford got another yard and Sierer added three. On the next play Sierer swept right end on a pitchout and streaked 23 yards for the score. Hendricks made it 7-0 on his kick.

Recover Fumbles

Early in the second period Fred Alleva pounced on a Bison fumble to halt a threat on the Gettysburg 43. Another fumble, recovered by Frank Gagliardi, Gettysburg quarterback, on the Bison 40, paved the way for Gettysburg's tying TD.

Gagliardi, who wound up with completing 10 of 15 aerials, fired to Hemberger for a first down on the 28. A screen pass, Gagliardi to Bill Morro, added 8. Gagliardi bucked the line for a first down on the 20. After Ujohal was halted, Gagliardi whipped a pass to Bob Epleman on the 10 from where he went over, being assisted by a fine double-block by Hart Beaver.

Bullet tackle, Ujohal kicked the tying point.

A long aerial, Hendricks to Bob Antikowiak 6-5 end, was good for 38 yards to put the Bisons on the Gettysburg 36 and led to the visitors' final score. Three straight first downs were picked up to the 1 from where Hendricks bolted over. His kick failed for the point.

The Bullets marched 67 yards for their final score late in the third period. Gagliardi hurled passes to Jacobi and Hemberger for 15 and 17 yards, respectively, and on a fake pass streaked 40 yards to the Bison 6 to set the stage for Ujohal to tally his second six-pointer on the next play.

Ujohal Hikes Total

Ujohal's two touchdowns and pair of extra points gives him 91 points for the campaign. He picked up 104 yards on 11 tries to hike his total season yardage to 604.

Gagliardi turned in another fine all-around performance, completing 10 of 15 passes, one of which was his 16th TD aerial of the season.

The Bullet line must be given credit for a brilliant performance against their ponderous opponents. Throughout the second half the lighter Gettysburg linemen consistently outplayed the visitors.

The win was the 11th in the long series with Bucknell and the first over the Bisons since 1949. Bucknell leads in the series 25-11.

Eastern Loop May Have Ten Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern Baseball League will consider becoming a 10 team circuit at its annual fall meeting next Saturday and Sunday at the Hotel New York.

League President Thomas H. Richardson said the agenda also would include adoption of the 1954 schedule, the 1954 baseball contract, the proposed amendments to the major-minor league rules and the national association agreement and the election of officers.

BROWNS AND DETROIT LIONS VIE FOR TITLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League standings had a decided 1952 tinge today chiefly because of Lou Groza's toe and Charlie Trippi's arm.

Cleveland's all-winning Browns and the Detroit Lions met for the NFL title last fall and it looks as if they're headed for another clash since they top their respective conferences.

There's little question but what the Browns will be in the playoff. They have won eight games and lead the Philadelphia Eagles by 2½ games in the Eastern Conference.

Each has four to play.

3-Way Tie Dissolved

But the Lions' hold on the top spot in the Western Conference is not so secure. They hold a half-game margin over the second-place Los Angeles Rams and a full game over the third-place San Francisco 49ers.

Cleveland, with Groza kicking three field goals, played an important role in dissolving the three-way tie for the Western Conference lead yesterday. The 11 points contributed by Groza (the also contributed after two touchdowns) were the difference as the Browns defeated the 49ers 23-21 before 80,698 at Cleveland.

Setback For Lions

At Chicago, Trippi completed eight passes, seven of them in a row, from a spread formation. The Cardinals tallied in the final minute to tie the Rams 24-24.

The deadlock by a team that hasn't won a game all season really gave the Rams' title hopes a setback for the Lions, throwing up a sturdy defense after Bobby Layne had tossed two touchdowns passes, beat the Green Bay Packers 14-7.

None of the other games had any effect on the upper brackets in either conference. The Pittsburgh Steelers did move into third place in the Eastern Conference on a 14-10 victory over the New York Giants. And the Eagles retained a mathematical chance of catching the Browns by thumping the Baltimore Colts 45-14 after Buddy Young had returned the opening kickoff 104 yards for a Baltimore touchdown. The Chicago Bears tied the Packers for last place in the Western division with a 27-24 decision over Washington's Redskins.

5 Schoolboy Conferences Have Named 1953 Champs

By DICK HOENIG

HARRISBURG (AP)—With less than two weeks left to play, five of Pennsylvania's top half dozen schoolboy football conferences have two finalists to decide first place honors.

Only the huge Eastern Penn Circuit, second largest in the state with 51 members, has failed to reach the stage where the results are evident or predictable. Anywhere from 5 to 8 clubs are still in the running for the 1952 East Penn crown won by Old Forge. Old Forge isn't among them.

As usual for the coal region conference, it is likely the two finalists won't be named until Thanksgiving Day, just 10 days before the championship playoff. Latest standings give Pottsville the edge in the Southern Division and Scranton Tech the margin in the Northern tier.

Select Finalists

Selection of the finalists in the Class AA division of the Pittsburgh area WPIAL was made official over the weekend as Har-Brack downed Rochester and Donora took care of Monessen. That closed Har-Brack's regular season with nine wins and Donora's with one. The two fight it out Nov. 28 at Pitt Stadium for the crown taken last season by Aliquippa.

The triumphs for the two WPIAL powers place them on the list of major schools finishing the regular campaign without a setback or deadlock. Bellwood-Antis of the Western Conference joined the same class with its 10th straight victory, over Claysburg.

A total of five schools, all Western Pennsylvania powers, have turned the trick now. Corry (9) and Adams Township (9) finished up earlier, clinching Section II and Western Conference flags in the process.

Two Are Tied

Two other title races were cleared up over the weekend. Chambersburg fought through a heavy fog to down Mechanicsburg and gain a tie for top honors with Hershey in the South Penn. Both have 4-0-1 league records with a scoreless game between the two accounting for the deadlock.

Pittsburgh Peabody won its ninth game against a tie in 10 starts, defeating Allegheny, 21-0, for the Steel City title.

The East Penn dogfight stands with Pottsville and Schuylkill Haven holding identical 5-0-1 conference records. Tamaqua, skidding from the Southern Division last year for the first time in a month, is 12 points behind Haven while Lansford is still in the picture too.

Scranton Tech maintains a 68 point advantage over West Scranton in the Northern Division with Wilkes-Barre G.A.R. trailing west.

Sunday Games

In Sunday games Scranton defeated St. Francis 27-7 and St. Vincent beat Kings 13-12.

In other games the scores were: Gettysburg 26-13 over Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall 19-7, over Muhlenberg, Lehigh 52-6 over Carnegie Tech, Thiel 52-6 over Allegheny, Johns Hopkins 13-13 over Dickinson, Drexel 20-6 over Swarthmore, PMC 7-0 over Albright, Montgomery 38-13 over National Aggies, Lebanon Valley 32-20 over Western Maryland, Edinboro 33-6 over Brockport, Bethany 19-13 over Grove City, Lock Haven 19-0 over Kutztown, Bridgeport 25-14 over Wilkes, Moravian 34-19 over Wagner and Lincoln 33-0 over Shaw.

Woman Lassoes 4-ft. Alligator On Street

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An unidentified woman yesterday lassoed a four-foot alligator as it crawled along a city street.

A half dozen husky males, kept at bay by the creature's gnashing teeth and slashing tail, just watched. Daytona Beach Patrolman Jack Lyndon, called to the scene, told the woman: "You've got more nerve than I have."

He didn't get the woman's name. He called the sea zoo here and an attendant carted the creature away.

GAME SUPPLY BEST IN YEARS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The supply of game for hunters during the present small game season is the "best in a number of years," according to a preliminary report by the State Game Commission.

The commission issued its report covering the first part of the month long season, up to Nov. 10.

"From a standpoint of supply the present season is providing the best attitude and conduct of hunters reflects a definite improvement over past seasons," the commission statement declared.

The report said there was "a big kill of small game" opening day and that hunters seemed "generally pleased with the abundance of game."

However, the commission noted that unofficial reports for the first 10 days of the season showed six hunters killed and 158 injured.

College Students Like One Platoon

NEW YORK (AP)—College students report that they prefer the one platoon football game over last year's multi-platoon system.

This was revealed by Lester Rand of the Youth Research Institute here. The poll surveyed 800 college students in 20 different schools throughout the nation.

Of all students polled, 81 per cent were for the one platoon games, 11 per cent were two-platooners and eight per cent were undecided.

"Girls are all for the one platoon, even though it means fewer men," asserted Rand. Nearly all the girls interviewed — 98 per cent to be exact — liked the 1953 version of the game because "it's easier to follow and less confusing."

The Municipal zoo made an off-season trade.

Director George Speidel traded a surplus leopard and two rhesus monkeys, plus cash, to the Chase Hill Wild Animal Farm at Egypt, Mass., for a male cheetah and four warden monkeys. The cash involved was said to be $1,060.

BASEBALL FEVER GRIPS ZOO

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The baseball fever which gripped Milwaukee all summer still is being felt here.

THREE SCHOOLS IN STATE HAVE UNBEATEN MARK

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Students at Juniata, Shippensburg and Westminster colleges are celebrating the completion of unbeaten, untied football seasons today. It's the first time in history for Juniata and Westminster.

For Coach Vin Rambo's Red Raiders of Shippensburg, its getting to be "old hat." They've just completed their second all-winning season—17 victories in a row—and are assured of at least a share of the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference title.

Westminster's 13-6 triumph over Slippery Rock gave the Tartans their first perfect record in 61 years on the gridiron. The Indians' 21-0 defeat of Ursinus wrapped up their best season in 31 years.

Shippensburg journeyed to Virginia to rack up victory No. 17—a 52-0 wallowing of Bridgewater. The powerful Raiders ended the season by amassing a total of 299 points.

25 Close Season

It was the last big weekend for Pennsylvania collegiate teams. Twenty-five of the state's 51 teams ended their schedules.

Meanwhile, Pitt and Penn State warmed up for their traditional battle Saturday at Pittsburgh by piling up big scores against out-of-state rivals. Pitt used mostly second stringers in downing North Carolina State, 40-6. Penn State had eight players scoring touchdowns in its 54-26 romp over Rutgers.

For Philadelphia area schools it was a dismal weekend. It was a last period touchdown that enabled Army to win 21-14 over Penn and give retiring Quaker Coach George Munger his first losing season in 16 years. Temple dropped a 28-0 decision to Fordham while Villanova was stopped cold by Boston University, 31-19.

In Sunday games Scranton defeated St. Francis 27-7 and St. Vincent beat Kings 13-12.

Big Three Answers Latest Red Note

PARIS (AP)—The French Foreign Office said the Western Big Three handed the Kremlin their latest note on Germany today.

The note is in reply to a Soviet communication earlier this month rejecting the West's proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting on Germany and Austria.

The Russians countered with a proposal for a Big Five conference—including Communist China—on international problems. The Red reply ignored the West's specific suggestion that the Big Four ministers meet in Lugano, Switzerland.

That is the attitude of the ASPCA and Dr. Garbutt finds it is the only reasonable way to run the institution whose sole revenue from so large a city is from licenses.

One learns at the ASPCA that many people take better care of their dogs than they do of themselves.

Not long ago a poor immigrant brought in a handsome German Shepherd. The dog had passed quarantine after an arduous trip from Belgium, but the owner wanted the animal looked over from top to bottom. To their utter amazement, the examining doctors found that the dog had an extensive injury, the first in the history of the institution's records.

EASY FISHING

TUSCUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Herman Abbett was fishing in the Osage River near here with a regular light casting rod. The hook was dressed with earthworms. A mighty tug came and Abbett tussled with his unseen game for 30 minutes. But it got mighty tiring so he tied the rod to a tree and went for help. With hastily enlisted aid he landed a 42-pound flathead catfish.

Find Two Bodies In Pond On Farm

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—The bodies of a young brother and sister were pulled out of a woodland pond yesterday to end a hunt in which thousands participated.

The victims were Tommy Gilmore, 8, and his sister, Carol Anne, 7, who had wandered from a playground near their home last Sunday.

Police said the brother and sister apparently tumbled from a small boat, found nearly submerged in the pond.

Only Oklahoma Sure Of Berth In Bowl Tilt; Rose, Cotton And Sugar Bowl Slates Are Uncertain

NEW YORK (AP)—The mad scramble for the pot of gold and glory in the New Year's Day bowl games showed no signs of being settled in most cases today—and the prospects were that some would have to go to a faculty vote.

With only one more big Saturday to go for most college teams, only Oklahoma can sit back and watch the others tear at each other. The Sooners are assured of a spot in the Orange Bowl by virtue of winning the Big Seven championship for the sixth straight year. They've won 40 conference games in a row.

The chances are strong that they'll meet Maryland, which by all odds should win the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference championship. Still, Duke, no shrinking violet, is tied with the Terps as of now for first place in the league.

Illini Have Setback

Rose Bowl—The Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference winners are pitted against each other, provided they haven't played the previous year. That eliminated Wisconsin and Southern California. The Badgers threw a monkey wrench into Illinois' plans Saturday by throttling the Illini 34-7. If the Illini beat Northwestern Saturday, they'll wind up tied with Michigan State, which has finished its league season.

That would call for a faculty vote, in which case Illinois probably would get it since Michigan State is not in the best of graces with the Big Ten. In fact, they're on probation.

In the Pacific Coast half of the Rose Bowl, UCLA and Stanford are tied for the lead, each with a record of 5-1. This week Stanford plays California and UCLA tackles Southern California. If both con-

Notre Dame still has three games to go—against Iowa, Southern California and Southern Methodist. Maryland, the only other major unbeaten, faces only Alabama, one of its conquerors of last season. Until Saturday, both Illinois and West Virginia had been members of the select circle of major unbeaters.

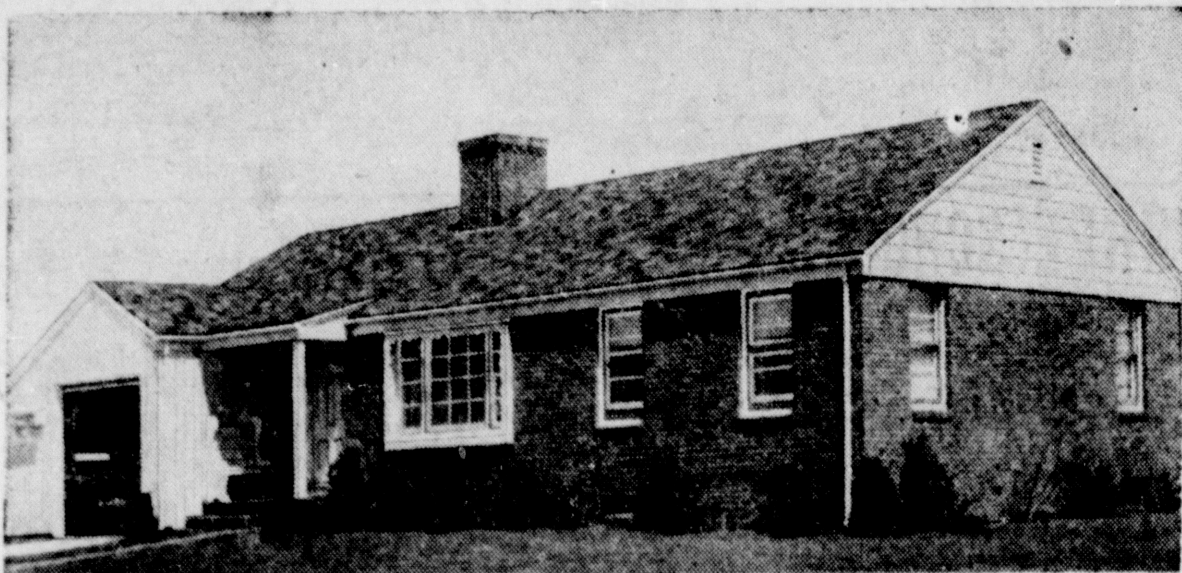

For a time, the experts feared that Maryland was not quite the team it was built up to be. But Jim Tatum's Terps pulled out all stoppers when they crushed a solid Mississippi team 38-0. That score will give Alabama cause to worry.

Dimensions	49'x27'

Thoroughly modern in appearance and in room layout, "The Wilson" measures only 49x27 ft. in overall dimensions. A large lot would not be required for "The Wilson" which is economical to construct. Cubage of the house is 24,000 feet and a full cellar is necessary except under the attached garage.

The small porch protecting the front entry is both a decorative and a practical asset. White wooden edging around the windows in the living room, the colorful asphalt roof and simple but attractive landscaping all enhance and brighten the exterior appearance of "The Wilson."

Although it isn't very large in size, the entry hall boasts two closets. The large coat closet in the left wall can hold both visitors' wraps and your family's stormy weather apparel. You'll find the closet in the back wall of the hall very useful for storing any one of those household items which never seems to have a place of its own in so many homes without adequate storage areas.

To the right, through a wide open archway, is the 17'x13' living room. The large window, flanked by the two narrow windows, in the front wall is as much a decorative asset to the living room as to the house exterior. Centered in the left wall of the room, the large fireplace brings to the living room a friendly, homey touch; its practical value will be appreciated on many a cool evening.

Dining Area
Since there is no dining room in "The Wilson" you'll probably want to put your dining room set in the living room and serve family and "company" dinners in this room. Near the back end of the right wall would make an excellent location for the dining set as the long expanse of unbroken wall area provides a good background.

The living room is joined to the rest of the rooms in the house by a long connecting hallway. Opening on this hallway, to the left of the living room, is another closet for which any homemaker will quickly find a use. Stairs to the basement also open off this hallway. Directly across from this stairway is the broom closet which will hold all your cleaning supplies and equipment.

In the all modern kitchen working counters, cupboards and cabinets are placed in a U arrangement along the left, back and right walls of the room. The refrigerator is placed at the left end of the line of working counters; the stove is at the right end. Thus, these two important kitchen appliances are within a few steps of each other.

Double Windows
Under the double windows in the back wall is the selected location for the sink. This arrangement gives you the benefit of good light and sunshine while you're doing your daily dishwashing stint; also enables you to keep an eye on Junior and young Sue playing in the back yard. Another window in the right wall of the room provides

Vishinsky Again Blames Yankees

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky charged Friday that aggressive American plots against the Soviet Union have created international tensions making disarmament impossible.

He listed three main examples of the alleged American policy as the establishment of a ring of air bases surrounding Russia, plans for the remilitarization of Western Germany and "hawking" of a Korean peace conference.

additional light and ventilation for the 13'x11'6" kitchen.

Against the front wall of the room is the breakfast nook. You'll find the area large enough to hold a dining table and chair set or one of the new wooden table and bench sets now so popular for use in breakfast nooks. The service entry is located in the left wall of the kitchen, just beside the refrigerator, and opens on a small, unprotected porch.

Measuring 13'6"x8', the bedroom or den is so planned that it can serve either purpose with equal success. Two closets, one in the right wall and other in left wall, provide ample storage space. The double windows in the back wall provide plenty of light and ventilation—a feature that will be appreciated regardless of the use to which you decide to put this versatile room.

The large and thoroughly modern bathroom is located between the den or bedroom and the right back bedroom. Receiving sufficient light and ventilation through the one window in the back wall, the bathroom contains both a tub and a shower and holds a large linen storage closet.

Windows in the back and right walls assure the back bedroom of good light and ventilation. The large clothes closet guarantees plenty of storage space for the occupant of this room. If this 12'x11'6" bedroom is to be occupied by the young men of your family, you can install bunk beds along the unbroken left wall area.

Measuring 15'x12', the front bedroom also has good cross ventilation and light from the two windows in the front wall and the one window in the right wall. This room has a spacious closet, one large enough to amply serve the storage needs of two people if you choose to use this room as the master bedroom.

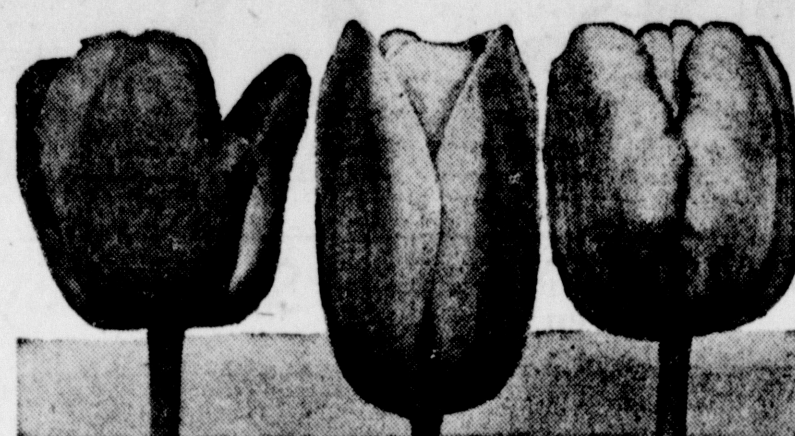

In the full cement basement of "The Wilson," install the heating plant under the living room; the laundry under the kitchen. You'll have plenty of basement area in which to have your cherished recreation room, hobby shop, etc.

Tulips Give Most Varied Color Show Of Garden Year

Breeder Tulip Cottage Tulip Dadwin Tulip

After looking at a drab landscape most of the winter, when spring comes our eyes are hungry for bright color. Tulips provide a color feast, enabling us to plant our garden beds and borders with every color in the rainbow.

There is no flower family which can equal the tulip's remarkable variety, and those who like color should take full advantage of it. Among all tulips, in color range, as well as size and height, the tall, late varieties excel.

All types of these giants are popularly known as "Darwin" tulips, though in catalogues they are divided into several classes, including Darwin, Cottage, Breeder, etc. But the public is right in considering them all so much alike, that they can be planted together in perfect harmony.

Select your tall, late tulips by color, therefore, rather than by ancestry, and have no hesitation in mixing up the clans, so long as they are well arranged for height, and harmony and blossom at the same time.

While mixtures of tulips attract many, a really attractive display requires that balance of the various colors which is seldom found in mixed bulbs. The most effective way of developing color interest in your planting is to plant groups of one variety, from 5 to 50 bulbs depending on the scale of your garden, placing each group so that its beauty is set off by companion groups. Extreme contrast is obtained by placing the rich, but duller tones, near groups of brighter colors, so that each will enhance the other. There are many blues and lavenders among the tulips, which bring out the brilliance of the yellow, pink and red varieties.

Tulips also lend themselves to less vivid color schemes. Here is one flower which can be depended upon to produce in the garden the effect planned in the fall. White or yellow tulips are often used in masses, interplanted with for-get-me-nots. The wild phlox divaricata, so plentiful in woodlands, has pale lavender flowers which are an excellent foil for all the tulip colors.

The size of the bulb you plant will determine, however, whether normal flowers develop. Tulips are graded according to size, measured in centimeters, not by the diameter but by the circumference of the bulb. All bulbs sent us from Holland are inspected by the Dutch government, which forbids any bulbs to be exported which is less than 9-10 centimeters, in circumference. This size, moreover, is only passed in the case of early tulips. The tall, late tulips which are most popular here, including the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder types, must be at least 11-12 centimeters (4 1/4 to 4 1/2 inches) in circumference.

Bulbs smaller than this may be American grown, or imported from or through some other country than Holland.

Do not plant in a color-scheme plan tulips which differ in flowering time. First to bloom are the species tulips; next the early single and double varieties; next the Darwin hybrids including the Mendel and Triumph classes; and finally the tall, late tulips, including the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder types, the Parrot tulips and late double varieties.

While tulips may be planted as late as the soil remains free from frost, it is best to obtain the bulbs while the selection is still unlimited.

SOMETIME soon—like this week—you ought to try a Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.*

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response—with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration—where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop—the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed—the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with T.T. Dynaflo?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised—and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the

Questions At Heart Of White Case Remain Unanswered After Week Of Sensations On Charges

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The case of Harry Dexter White, as sensationally laid before the public by Atty. Gen. Brownell, is now a week old but questions which go to the heart of it remain unanswered.

They involve Brownell himself, former President Truman and his administration — including former Secretary of State Byrnes, who is now governor of South Carolina. The questions spring out of the background:

In December 1945, while White was assistant secretary of the Treasury, the FBI gave the White House a 30,000-word report about a number of government employees including White, alleged to be part of a Soviet spy ring.

25 Pages On White
One month later, Truman nominated White to be U.S. representative on the International Monetary Fund, an important position. On Feb. 6 the Senate approved White's appointment.

Two days before that the FBI had given the White House a special report of at least 25 typed pages on White alone. It has been learned the FBI didn't call him a spy, but recited charges by informants who did.

A similar report went to the State Department. Byrnes, then secretary of state, now says he saw the report, talked with Truman on Feb. 6, the day the Senate confirmed White without knowing of the FBI report, and asked Truman not to let the appointment of White go through. Byrnes says Truman told him he had seen the FBI report. Truman commissioned White.

Took Oath And Died

White held the job one year. Truman then accepted his resignation with "sincere regret" on April 9, 1947. Later a federal grand jury in New York questioned White but did not indict him. In August 1948, three days after he swore to a congressional committee that he was neither a spy nor a Communist, White died.

Truman says he fired White from the fund job when he found out he was "wrong." President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, points to the Truman letter regretfully accepting White's resignation. Truman's explanation is that "people are sometimes fired by being allowed to resign."

In blasting open the White case in a speech last Friday, Brownell said the first FBI report was delivered to Truman. Three days later he said it was sent to the White House for Truman. The second FBI report, he said, was delivered to the White House for Truman.

Brownell Goes Farther

Brownell unqualifiedly called White a spy, which apparently is more than the FBI did in its report and, apparently, more than the grand jury thought could be proved when it did not indict White.

Here are some of the important unanswered questions:
How did Truman later learn White was "wrong"? Once having found out, what did he do, besides letting White resign? Did he try to prosecute White, or check to learn what damage White might have done the government?

Many Answers Missing

Did anyone in the White House ever check with the FBI about White or any other members of the alleged spy ring in order to trap them or get them out of the government?

Authoritative sources have said there never was a White House-

FBI agreement, for instance, to promote White to the monetary fund so the FBI could further check on him and any contacts he might have.

What is Truman's reply to Byrnes' statement that he did see at least the second FBI report on White, was urged not to commission him but did so and let him stay another year in the government?

Nor has Byrnes yet answered an obvious question: since the first FBI report mentioned Alger Hiss as well as White, what did Byrnes do about checking on Hiss or getting rid of him? Byrnes says he was out of the country when that first report went to the State Department, but was shown the second. Did anyone tell him about Hiss and that first report?

How About Clark, Vinson?
Brownell has produced no evidence of his own to back up his charge. Does he have it? Where is it? He has refused to see reporters who would have asked him that if they had the chance.

And how can he say flatly White was a spy when the grand jury did not indict and the FBI did not draw conclusions but simply said its informants about White were reliable?

There are other unanswered questions. Tom C. Clark, attorney general in 1945-46 and now a Supreme Court justice, as boss over the FBI was in a position to know about the reports. What did he do?

What did Fred M. Vinson do about White? He was chief justice of the Supreme Court when he died this year but was secretary of the Treasury, and White's boss, at the time of the FBI reports. Did he see them? What did he do?

NEW TITO OFFER RAISES HOPES IN TRIESTE CASE

By STAN SWINTON

ROME (AP)—A new offer by Yugoslav President Tito to give Italy the port city of Trieste raised diplomats' expectations here that a five-power conference on the disputed Adriatic territory is imminent.

These circles also felt Italy and Yugoslavia now were agreed on a number of major points relative to the 285 square miles of territory inhabited by 375,000 persons which each nation has claimed in the past.

Speaking in Belgrade yesterday, Tito dramatically waived his nation's claims to the port city and conceded Italy should have it. But he repeated his demand for the rest of Zone A, the territory of farms and vineyards around the city. The city's 300,000 population is largely Italian, the rest of the zone's 25,000 settlers are mostly of Yugoslav-Slovene origin.

Tito also warned that any further Italian expansion at Yugoslav expense would result in a "conflict." He told a parliamentary election rally "Yugoslavia will not go to war for Trieste," but Deputy Foreign Secretary Ales Bebler later explained his chief meant just the port city, not all of Zone A.

Yugoslav control of the rest of Zone A would isolate the port from Italy. Diplomats here believed, however, that Yugoslavia also would concede Italy should get a corridor linking her with the city. They anticipate sharp disagreement, however, on how wide this band should be.
